DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9 and 27-30, drawn to a projection apparatus for imaging a pattern by a beam of projected charged particles, classified in class 250, subclass 396R.
- II. Claims 10-24 and 31-37, drawn to a mask, classified in class 430, subclass 5.
- III. Claims 25-26, drawn to a method for exposing a radiation sensitive layer to a projected pattern of charged particles in response to a measuring signal, classified in class 430, subclass 30.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination projection apparatus does not expressly require a mask having at least one mark region made of a material differing from that of the membrane layer and scattering regions but does require that the plurality of supports on the mask are straightly extending, unlike the requirements of the claimed subcombination mask. The subcombination mask has separate utility as in charged beam projection patterning of a radiation sensitive material by a step and repeat method, whereas the combination projection apparatus can be used for continuously scanning the radiation material using a projected charged beam.

Art Unit: 1756

Inventions II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, the product mask as claimed can be used in a materially different process, such as an etching mask in charged particle beam etching.

Inventions III and I are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process, such as charged particle beam etching of the radiation sensitive material and/or an underlying substrate.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Jeffrey Bergman on 26 August 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
